

Seminar 28th January, 2009

The DISC-UK DataShare Project: data librarians and repository managers working together on data repository services for UK researchers

Robin Rice, Data Library, University of Edinburgh

When: 10am (coffee from 9.45am)

Where: Room E365, East Wing, Building 11* (*Menzies),
Monash University (Clayton campus)

(Maps, transport and parking information:

<http://www.monash.edu.au/campuses/clayton.html>)

- A podcast of Robin's presentation will be available after the seminar.

Please RSVP by email to data-management@lib.monash.edu.au by Friday 23 January.

Robin Rice is the project manager of DISC-UK DataShare, a JISC-funded project within the Repositories and Preservation Programme setting up institutional data repositories at three UK universities - Edinburgh, Oxford and Southampton. She was also project director of the University of Edinburgh's Data Audit Framework (DAF) Implementation project and a partner on the Digital Curation Centre's DAF Development project (March-Nov 2008).

As Data Librarian, she is the service manager of the University's Data Library, and part of the EDINA management group. EDINA is a JISC-funded national data centre based at the University of Edinburgh. She was project coordinator of the Digital Curation Centre during its setup phase in 2004-05. She worked previously at the former Data and Program Library Service at the University of Wisconsin and has a Masters degree in Library and Information Studies.

<http://datalib.ed.ac.uk> <<http://datalib.ed.ac.uk/>>

<http://edina.ac.uk> <<http://edina.ac.uk/>>

<http://www.disc-uk.org/datashare.html>

<http://www.data-audit.eu/>

Seminar hosted by Monash University Library, the Monash e-Research Centre and the Victorian e-Research Strategic Initiative (VeRSI).