

PETER B. DIXON

Curriculum Vitae

August 2007

Professor Peter B. Dixon, BEc (Monash), PhD (Harvard), was born in 1946. He topped his honours class at Monash in 1967. His PhD was awarded by Harvard University in 1972 and his thesis was subsequently published in the Contributions to Economic Analysis series of North Holland (the world's leading publisher in scientific economics). After working at the International Monetary Fund and the Reserve Bank of Australia, Dixon joined the IMPACT Project in 1975 under the direction of Professor A.A. Powell. With Powell, he was the joint recipient of the 1983 Research Medal of the Royal Society of Victoria given in recognition of the outstanding contribution of the IMPACT Project to social science research in Australia over the preceding 5 years. He was elected a Fellow of the Academy of Social Sciences in 1982 and is one of only 10 economists working in Australia included in Who's Who in Economics, A Biographical Dictionary of Major Economists, 1700-1986. Inclusion in the Who's Who is based on international citations. In 1990, he was the Giblin lecturer at the 59th ANZAAS Congress.

Dixon was appointed to the Chair in Economic Theory at La Trobe University in 1978 and to a Visiting Professorship at Harvard in 1983. From 1984 to 1991 he was Director and Professor in the Institute of Applied Economic and Social Research at the University of Melbourne and from 1991 to 2004 he held the equivalent position in the Centre of Policy Studies at Monash University. In July 2004 he took up his present position as Professor and Principal Researcher in the Centre of Policy Studies.

Dixon is known internationally for his work in computable general equilibrium modelling. Together with colleagues at the IMPACT Project and the Centre of Policy Studies, he created the ORANI model and its dynamic successor, MONASH. These models have been prominent in the Australian economic debate for 30 years and have been used as templates for the development of other models throughout the world. He is the principal author of the ORANI and MONASH books published in the North Holland Contributions series in 1982 and 2002. In recent years he has led the development of the USAGE model of the U.S. which is being used extensively by the U.S. Government.

Dixon's publication list contains 180 articles and 7 books. With the publication of the MONASH book, he became the first person to achieve authorship of three North Holland Contributions monographs.

In 2003, Dixon was awarded the Distinguished Fellowship of the Economic Society of Australia. In 2006 he was appointed Sir John Monash Distinguished Professor by Monash University.
