

Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) Application Form

Please read the following instructions carefully before completing this form

- (i) Applications for PhD candidature may be lodged at any time.
- (ii) Assessment of applications may take two months or more.
- (iii) This is an application form only and does not constitute an enrolment for any course in the university or entitle an applicant to be classified as a student of the university.
- (iv) An applicant accepted as a candidate by the Research Graduate School Committee on behalf of the university must enrol by completing the official enrolment form. Details on enrolment procedures will be sent to successful applicants with a letter offering candidature.
- (v) An enrolment is valid for the current academic year only. It is a student's own responsibility to complete re-enrolment procedures each year until the course is completed or candidature discontinued. A re-enrolment package will be sent to all candidates in October each year. A fee statement is sent to each candidate at the beginning of each semester.
- (vi) Applicants should note that, except with the permission of the Research Graduate School Committee, and only in circumstances it deems exceptional, doctoral candidates may not be enrolled for any other degree, diploma or non-degree subjects during their period of candidature.
- (vii) All PhD applicants are admitted to candidature on a probationary basis for the first 12 months full-time, or 24 months part-time, candidature. Those applicants who are upgrading from masters to PhD will be deemed to have already completed probationary candidature, and will be admitted to confirmed candidature.
- (viii) Please note that applications will not be processed unless full documentation is attached.
- (ix) International students wishing to study on-campus in Australia are required to enrol on a full-time basis.

Documentation

Applicants must provide evidence of their qualifications. This should be an official academic record, showing all subjects attempted, grades achieved (including failures) and an explanation of the grading system. The record must be an official transcript or statement of record from the institution in which these studies were attempted. Result notification slips will not be accepted.

Originals of documents are preferred. Copies are only acceptable if they are certified as being a true copy of an original by a commissioner for declarations, a justice of the peace, a university or college registrar, or other examining authority. If a certified copy is submitted, the original document must be available on request.

Applicants who submit documents in a language other than English must provide an officially certified translation, together with the original documents. Translations supported by uncertified photocopies are unacceptable. Applicants, whose first language is not English, must submit evidence of English language proficiency. See question 8 for details on the evidence required.

All applicants are also required to provide a certified copy of their passport or other evidence of citizenship.

Conditions Relating to Full-Fee Paying International Students studying on-campus

International students accepted on a full-fee basis will be subject to the same regulations as other students enrolled in the course, except that international students studying on-campus on a student visa must be enrolled full-time. International students studying on-campus are also required to have compulsory Overseas Student Health Cover.

Supervision and attendance

The prescriptions pursuant to regulation 9.1 in relation to students enrolling in a PhD are as follows:

- (i) For the purposes of regulation 9.1, in order to undertake full-time candidature, a candidate must be able to devote a minimum of four days a week to the pursuit of the research project; in order to undertake part-time candidature, a candidate must be able to devote a minimum of two days per week, with at least one day during work hours, to the pursuit of the research project.
- (ii) Where the candidate is engaged in full-time employment, the head of the academic unit will be required to certify that the candidate is able to spend two days a week in pursuit of the research project as a part-time candidate.

The prescriptions pursuant to regulation 15.1 in relation to students enrolling in an Internal PhD program are as follows:

- (i) The candidate must discuss progress with the supervisor, in person, at least once every calendar month (part-time) or every two weeks (full-time).
- (ii) The candidate must attend the university frequently and on a regular basis.
- (iii) The candidate must attend all such courses, seminars, workshops etc, as are deemed necessary by the head of the academic unit in which the candidate is enrolled.
- (iv) The candidate shall be required to undertake the equivalent of six months of full-time study within the university, (including its research stations and teaching hospitals); the apportionment of that attendance period should be determined by the faculty prior to admission.
- (v) Where the candidate is engaged in full-time employment, the head of the academic unit will be required to certify at the time of application that the candidate will be able to comply with the residency requirements.
- (vi) The supervisor and head will be required to certify that the requirements for candidature have been met and an annual report of attendance and progress presented.
- (vii) Notwithstanding the above prescriptions, candidates, supervisors and heads of academic units should be aware that successful completion of the PhD signifies an ability on the part of the candidate to pursue independent research. There should therefore be a progressive reduction in the extent of close supervision during the candidature and particularly in the final years of candidacy.

The prescriptions pursuant to regulation 11 in relation to students enrolling in an external PhD program are as follows.

- (i) Applicants may apply for external candidature if they do not live within daily commuting distance of Melbourne. Applicants who are studying at an affiliated site (for example at a teaching hospital) should apply for internal candidature.
- (ii) Regular interactive communication between candidate and supervisor should take place at least once every calendar month (part-time) or every two weeks (full-time) via telephone, video conference, email or other interactive communication; the Research Graduate School Committee will also need to be assured that the candidate and supervisor are able to communicate daily as required.
- (iii) The candidate must attend all such courses, seminars, workshops and conferences (both at Monash and elsewhere), as are deemed necessary by the head of the academic unit.
- (iv) The candidate shall be required to undertake the equivalent of 15 days of full-time study within the university each year, (including its research stations and teaching hospitals):
 - apportionment of these days is to be determined on a case by case basis;
 - the annual 15 day attendance requirement must be met in each year; and
 - a portion of this attendance may be off-campus, provided that the candidate is able to interact with the principal or associate (university) supervisor.
- (v) Where the candidate is engaged in full-time employment, the head of the academic unit will be required to certify at the time of application that the candidate will be able to comply with the residency requirements.
- (vi) The supervisor and head will be required to certify that the requirements for candidature have been met and an annual report of attendance and progress presented.
- (vii) Notwithstanding the above prescriptions, candidates, supervisors and heads of academic units should be aware that successful completion of the PhD signifies an ability on the part of the candidate to pursue independent research. There should therefore be a progressive reduction in the extent of close supervision during the candidature and particularly in the final years of candidacy.

International students living outside Australia and enrolling as external students are permitted to enrol on a part-time basis.

Student fees

Application Fees and Deposit – International students applying for on-campus study

A non-refundable application fee of $100 AUD is payable on submission of this application. You can pay by credit card, money order or bank draft made out to Monash University. Should you wish to pay by credit card, please complete the card details below:

Tick one: Mastercard Visa

Card no.: _____ Expiry date: _____

Cardholder's name: _____

Cardholder's signature: _____ Amount: A$ 100.00

A deposit amounting to the full fee for one semester (ie half the annual fee) plus overseas student health cover must be paid on approval of the application and the acceptance of an offer of a place. A visa will not be issued unless the deposit is paid. The deposit will not normally be refunded except if the offer of a place is withdrawn or in circumstances considered by Monash University to be exceptional, such as inability to obtain a visa (for reasons other than lack of fee payment) or illness supported by a medical certificate.

The university reserves the right to withhold a proportion of fees paid in accordance with the Australian National Policy on Fees Refund: Overseas Students.

Payments made by bank cheques are to be in Australian dollars payable to Monash University.

Deposit – International students applying for external study

For international students a deposit amounting to the full fee for one semester (ie half the annual fee) must be paid on approval of the application and the acceptance of the offer of a place. The deposit will not normally be refunded except if the offer of a place is withdrawn or in circumstances considered by Monash University to be exceptional, such as illness supported by a medical certificate.

The University reserves the right to withhold a proportion of the fees paid in accordance with the Australian National Policy on Fees Refund: Overseas Students.

All payments are to be made by bank cheques in Australian dollars payable to Monash University.

Fees – Australian citizens, New Zealand Citizens and Australian Permanent Residents

Most local PhD students at Monash receive a Commonwealth supported Research Training Scheme (RTS) place to cover tuition fees. Students who do not receive an RTS place will be granted a non-Commonwealth funded fee-exempt place which is funded by Monash. Applicants will be advised of their status regarding the Research Training Scheme (RTS) on enrolment. A fee statement will be issued by mail shortly after enrolment.

Submitting your application form

All applicants should complete section A of this application form. Applicants applying for external candidature should also arrange for Section B to be completed by the on-site supervisor prior to submitting this application form. If an on-site supervisor has not been appointed, Section B should be left blank.

International students applying for on-campus study should submit two copies of this application form and all certified transcripts and other supporting documentation, along with a non-refundable application fee of $100 AUD to:

International students wishing to study on-campus in Australia are required to enrol on a full-time basis

A candidate who wishes to undertake PhD on a part-time internal basis is required to:

- i) undertake the equivalent of six months of full-time study at the university, normally within the first 48 months of candidature. The period of six months full-time study may be taken as a single block or in blocks adding up to six months, with a minimum block period of one month. Please specify how this block period of study will be fulfilled (provide dates):

- ii) produce written confirmation stating which two days a week will be devoted to research. Applicants for non-laboratory disciplines may specify a Saturday or a Sunday as one of the two days available for research. Applicants from laboratory disciplines may specify a half-day on Saturday or Sunday, with the remaining 1.5 days being weekdays. Please specify the two days:

- iii) produce evidence stating that he/she has adequate leave/time to pursue PhD research. A letter from an employer for example, would be considered acceptable evidence in this regard. This letter should confirm i) and ii) above and give details of the leave arrangements which will enable you to undertake the research. Please attach relevant documentation.

7. Attendance and residency requirements for external students

Do you intend to enrol as an external student?

A candidate who wishes to undertake PhD studies by external mode is required:

- i) to communicate with the supervisor by telephone, video conference or other interactive means at least monthly (part-time) or every two weeks (full-time), (and on a daily base as required).

Please indicate what arrangements have been made for this:

- ii) to undertake the equivalent of 15 days of full-time study within the university each year, (including its research stations and teaching hospitals):

Please indicate how this annual attendance requirement will be fulfilled in the first year (in the case of part-time external candidates, the first two years) of candidature (Provide dates):

Please indicate how you propose to meet this attendance requirement in subsequent years:

- iii) if proposing to enrol on a part-time basis:

- to produce written confirmation stating which two days a week will be devoted to research. Applicants for non-laboratory disciplines may specify a Saturday or a Sunday as one of the two days available for research. Applicants from laboratory disciplines may specify a half-day on Saturday or Sunday, with the remaining 1.5 days being week-days. Please specify the two days:

- to produce evidence stating that he/she has adequate leave/time to pursue PhD research. A letter from an employer for example, would be considered acceptable evidence in this regard. This letter should confirm ii) and iii) above and give details of the leave arrangements which will enable you to undertake the research. Please attach relevant documentation.

8. English proficiency

Sound English language skills are required for academic programs at Monash. Please note that English proficiency requirements for research courses are different from those of undergraduate courses. All applicants may satisfy English language requirements in any of the following ways. Please note that these are the minimum university requirements. Some faculties may have set additional prerequisites.

The university reserves the right to seek additional proof of English proficiency where required. Please place X in the box indicating how you have satisfied the English language requirements for admission to Monash.

First language is English

An overall band score of not less than 6.5 on the IELTS test conducted by IDP and the British Council. In addition, a score of at least 6.0 is required for each band score and applicants must undertake the academic module in regard to reading and writing. In the faculties of Arts and Law, an overall IELTS score of 7.0 (7.0 on writing module). In the Department of Epidemiology and Preventive Medicine, an overall IELTS score of 7.0 with individual band scores of 6.5. Tests that are taken more than two years prior to application will not be accepted. Details can be found at www.ielts.org.

The following scores achieved in the American Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL):

- a minimum total score of 577 together with a score of 5 or more on the TOEFL Test of Written English (TWE) (paper based score);
- a minimum total score of 233 together with a score of 5 or more on the Essay Rating (ER) (computer-based score); or
- a minimum total score of 91 (internet based score) together with a minimum score of 25 in the written test and a minimum score of 22 in each of the reading, speaking and listening tests.

Tests that are taken more than two years prior to application will not be accepted. Details can be found at www.toefl.org. In the faculties of Arts and Law and the Department of Epidemiology and Preventive Medicine, a minimum total score of 600 and a score of 5.0 or more in the TWE (paper based), a minimum total score of 250 together with a score of 5.0 or more in the ER (computer-based score), or a minimum total score of 100 with a minimum score of 25 in each of the written, reading, speaking and listening tests (internet based test).

Successful completion of a course of tertiary studies of at least two years' duration conducted entirely in English and involving formal assessment of written work, in a country where English is the official language. Evidence in the form of a letter or certificate issued by the university Registrar's office will need to be provided. Studies must be completed within the five year period prior to application. In the faculties of Arts and Law, studies must be completed within the two year period prior to application. Where studies have been conducted entirely in English and involving formal assessment of written work in a country where English is one of two or more official languages of that country, a case may be made to the Monash Research Graduate School Committee by the relevant department/faculty. The World Factbook located at www.cia.gov/cia/publications/factbook/ lists the official languages of all countries.

Successful completion of a course of tertiary studies of at least two years' duration at Monash's Malaysia or South Africa campus, or an equivalent Malaysian tertiary education campus recognised by Monash University. Studies must be completed within the five-year period prior to application. In the Faculties of Arts and Law, studies must be completed within the two year period prior to application.

An overall IELTS score of 6.0 (writing score of 6.0); or a paper based TOEFL score of 550 with a TWE of 4.5; or a computer-based TOEFL score of 213 with an ER of 4.5; or an internet based TOEFL score of 79 with a minimum score of 22 in the written test and a minimum score of 19 in the listening, reading and speaking tests together with

successful completion of the 10-week Monash University English Language Bridging Program (ELBP). Applicants will not be admitted to candidature until they have successfully completed the ELBP. Some faculties, for example the Faculty of Arts and Faculty of Law, do not admit candidates under this criterion.

9. Research/publications

Provide details of any original research and/or publications. For publications/abstracts, indicate the percentage of your contribution, eg sole (100%), joint (50%), multi authorship (20%), and the nature and standing of the journal/conference. Also indicate whether in press (accepted for publication) or published. (Attach additional sheet if necessary)

State details and attach evidence of training relevant to your ability to pursue the proposed course.

10. Declaration by applicant

The information on this form is collected for the primary purpose of assessing your application for admission to PhD/doctoral candidature. Other purposes of collection include the creation of an enrolment record on the student database, attending to administrative matters, corresponding with you and statistical analyses. If you choose not to complete all the questions on this form, it will not be possible for Monash University to assess your application. Personal information may also be disclosed to the relevant bodies for the verification of your qualifications and it may be disclosed to government agencies as required by legislation. You have a right to access personal information the Monash University holds about you, subject to any exceptions in relevant legislation. If you wish to seek access to your personal information or inquire about the handling of your personal information, please contact the University Privacy Officer on 9905 6011.

I declare that I have read the instructions on this application form and that the information provided by me is true and complete. I recognise that it is my responsibility to provide all necessary documentation to support my application and I authorise the University to obtain official student records from any educational institution; or to verify my past and current employment for the purpose of making an informed decision about the application or matters that concern my admission and enrolment in this course.

I accept that documentation provided by me will become the property of Monash University and made available to commonwealth and state agencies, pursuant to obligations under ESOS Act 2000 and the National code. I have read and understood the above conditions and accept them fully.

I acknowledge that Monash University reserves the right to vary or reverse any decision regarding admission or enrolment made on the basis of incorrect or incomplete information. I have read and understand the above conditions and am prepared to accept them in full.

- will complete the equivalent of 15 days of full-time study within the university each year;
 - apportionment of these days is to be determined on a case by case basis (eg in some instances it might be appropriate to take a single block of 15 days, while in others a few days at a time may be considered more effective)
 - the annual 15 day attendance requirement is not allowed to accumulate, so that the attendance in some years is greater but falls short of the requirement in other years
 - a portion but not all of this attendance may be off-campus, provided that the candidate was able to interact with the principal or associate (university) supervisor during this time

N.B Applications from students transferring from another university, or applying to be re-admitted at Monash, should include a detailed statement of where research is up to, along with a timetable for completion of the thesis at Monash. The department/faculty must provide a recommendation on the number of months prior candidature to be deducted, based on the relevance of the work already conducted to their proposed research topic at Monash. Departments/faculties should be aware that there are funding implications for prior candidature, even if the research topic has changed. The application should also include details from the previous institution regarding period of enrolment, full-time/part-time, periods of leave, Student Status and total EFTSU load consumed. The academic unit should also comment on the feasibility of the applicant's timetable. It is recommended that the academic unit contact the previous supervisor at the university where the applicant has been enrolled – this will require the permission of the applicant.
